

NANCY MALLORY

You can tell your grandchildren that you chimed your senior year at North by donning a devil suit and riding in a wheelbarrow. How many people have that distinction?
Good luck,
Linda Shorkey

Dear Nancy-
How could I ever forget all the wonderful times we had together.
231 was really a riot, and it's really sad that it's all over. Best wishes to you always!

 FIGHT ASTHMA

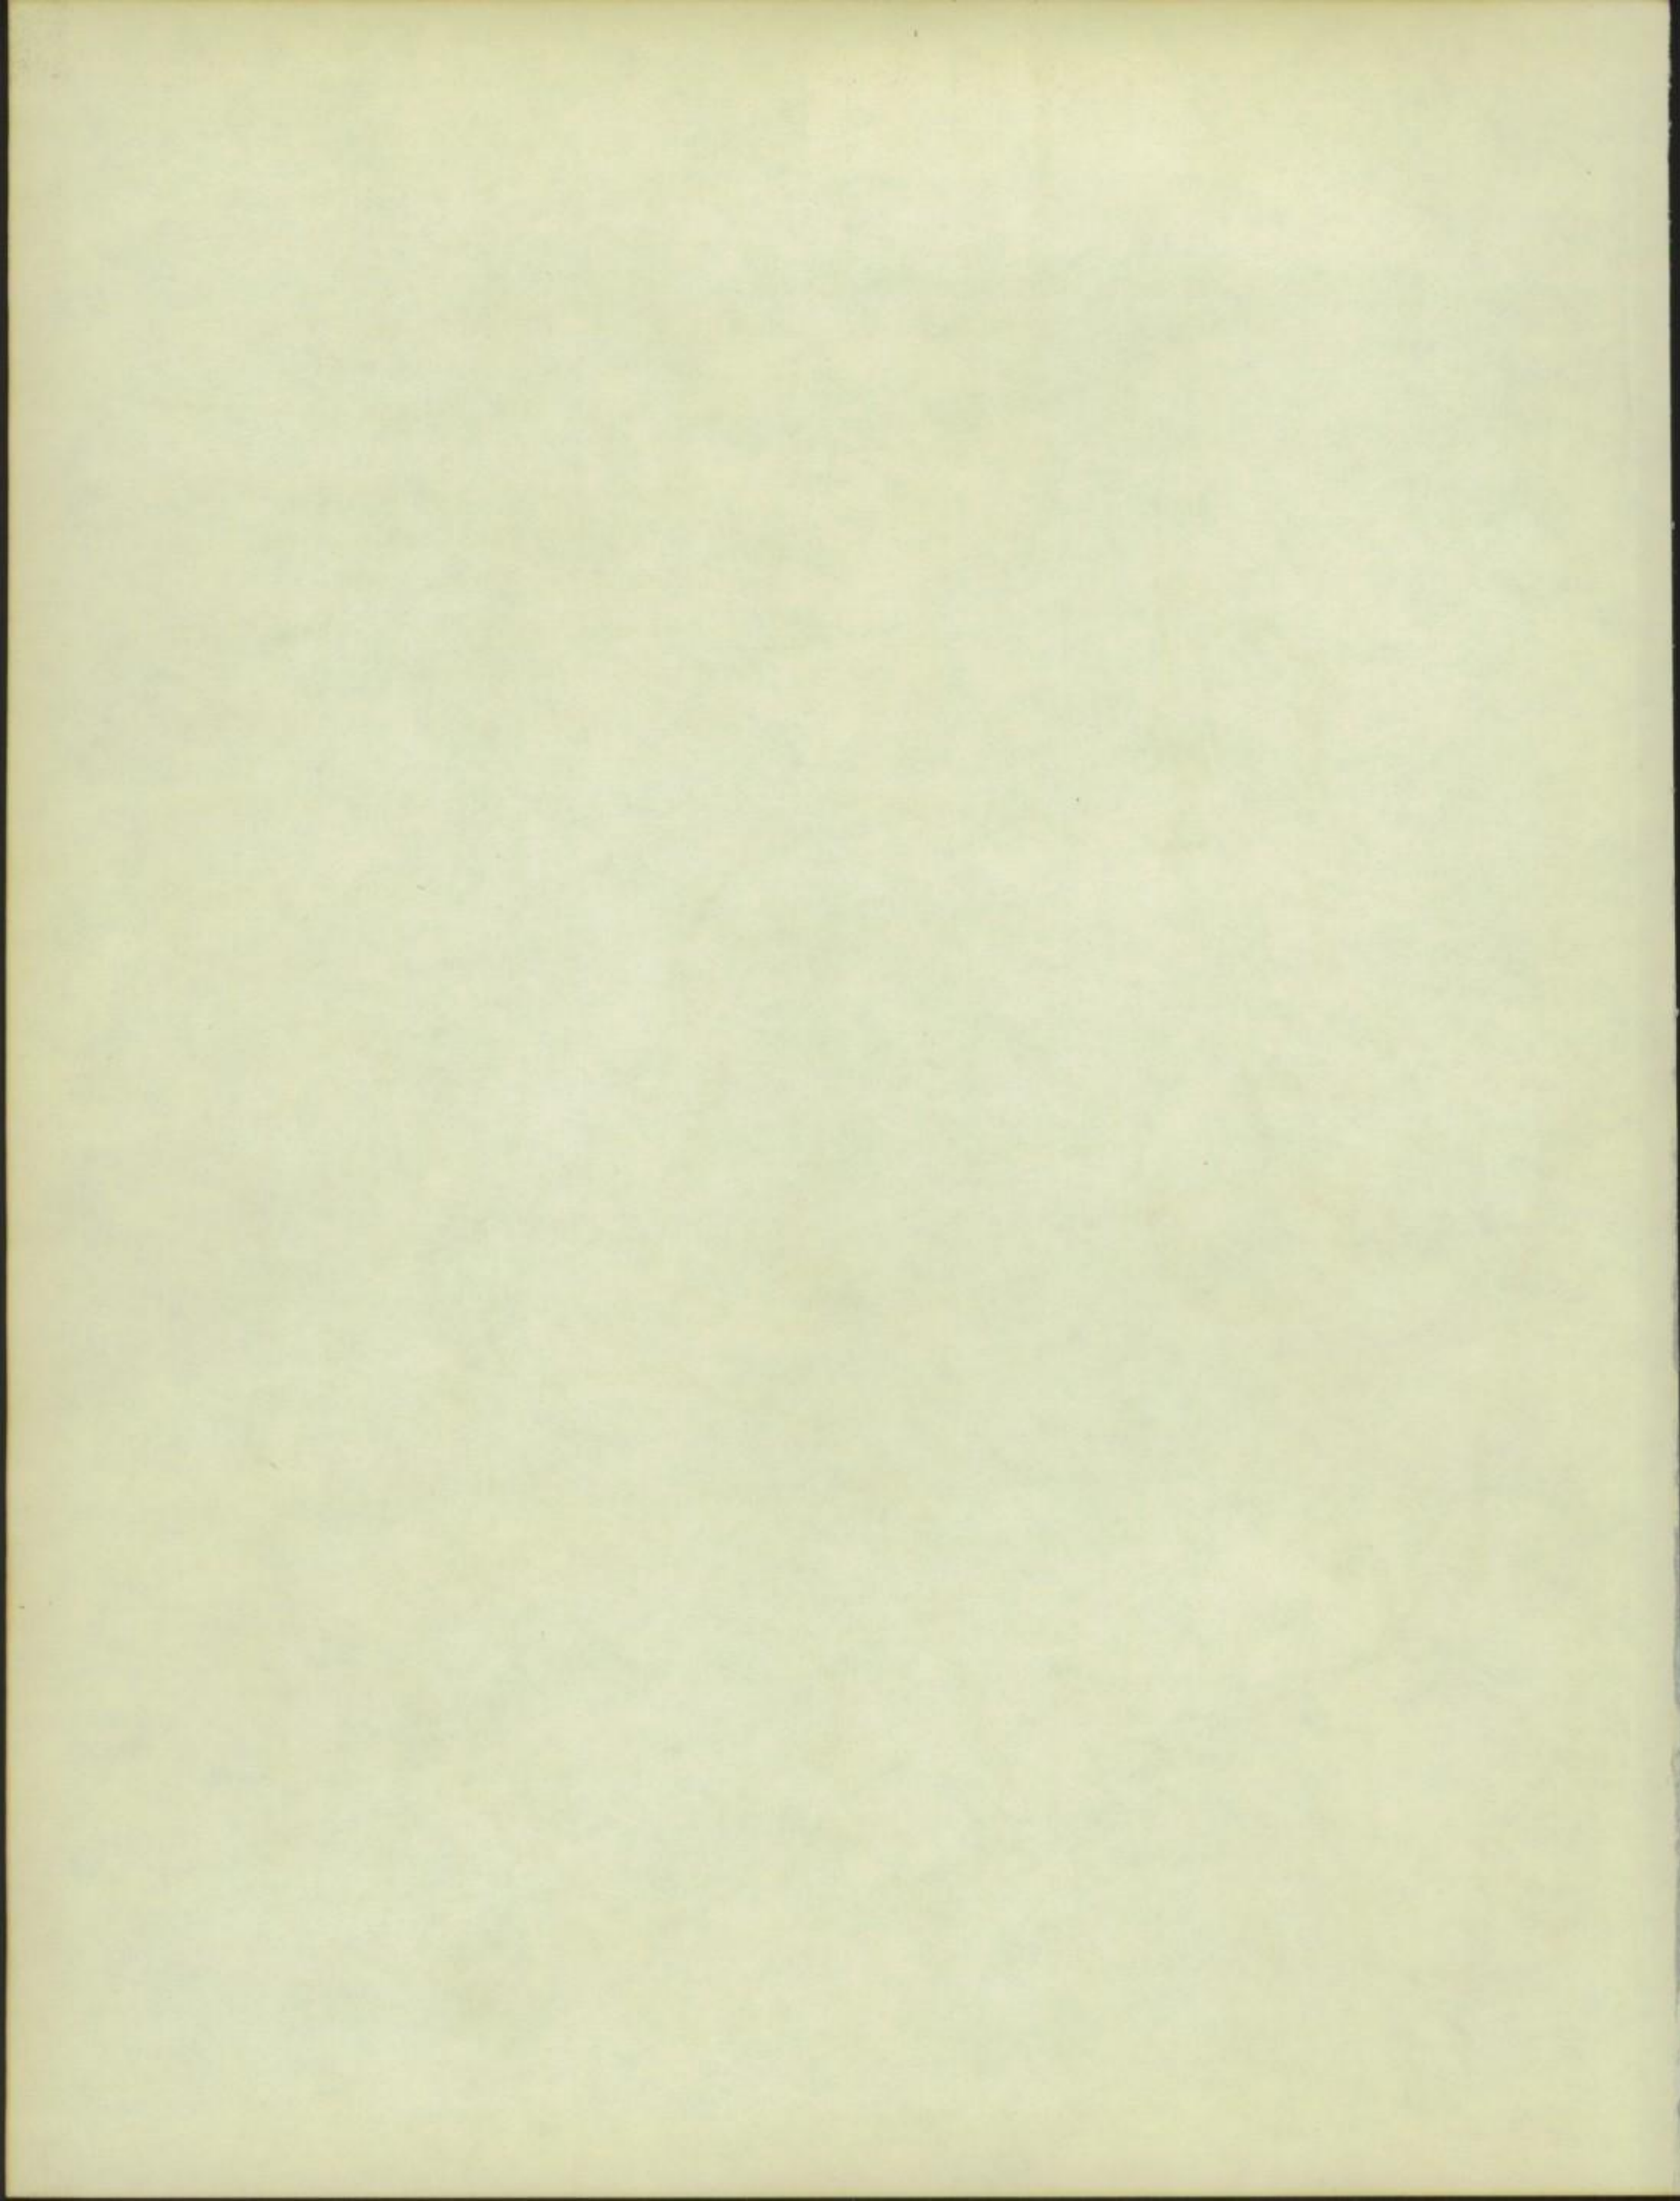

Out of the North comes the Polar Bear,
 Venturing forth from her guarded lair.
 Our warriors in the fray are ready for the foe;
 This is our happy day, we'll watch them
 as they go.
 Send up a cheer for the Maroon and Gold.
 We never fear for our defenders bold.
 We'll win the game, defend our fame.
 And know the reason why
 Our voice in song both loud and long
 We raise up to the sky.
 Come on and sing and make the welkin ring!
 Come on and fight, fight, fight, North High!

Reflections In Maroon And Gold

As we complete a year at North,
Experiences are transformed
From real events to memories,
Reflections in maroon and gold.

Striking a typical pose, Mr. Dupre takes advantage of his chance to be an audience to student drama.

Mr. Horn leans forward intently as he tries to convey an important message to his P.O.D. students.

The whole student body becomes filled with enthusiasm when Mr. Hindman speaks at pep rallies.

Mr. Roberts gives constructive criticism to his class of eager young artists.

Tormented instructors are terribly tolerant
And typically tactful when trying to teach.
The tedious task of testing intelligence
Of timid and terrified kids is no treat.

Mrs. Tracewell helps her students see the problems from all angles.

Concentrate and speculate;
Meditate and cogitate.
Eliminate assignments late,
And never dare procrastinate.

Quotients, signs, equivalents, endless rows of numbers—it's mystical, but where there is algebra, there's a way.

After labeling her specimens, this biology student will be one of the few people who know who's who and what's what around her.

These boys' teacher must be either very interesting or a hypnotist.

Grains of chemicals are weighed with demanding precision as chemistry students acquire knowledge of the scientific method.

Cogitate — "Just think! Studying all this period gives me forty-three more minutes to waste when I get home!"

Concentrate — Hard as it may seem, students do manage to keep their restless minds on their studies for forty-three minutes at a time.

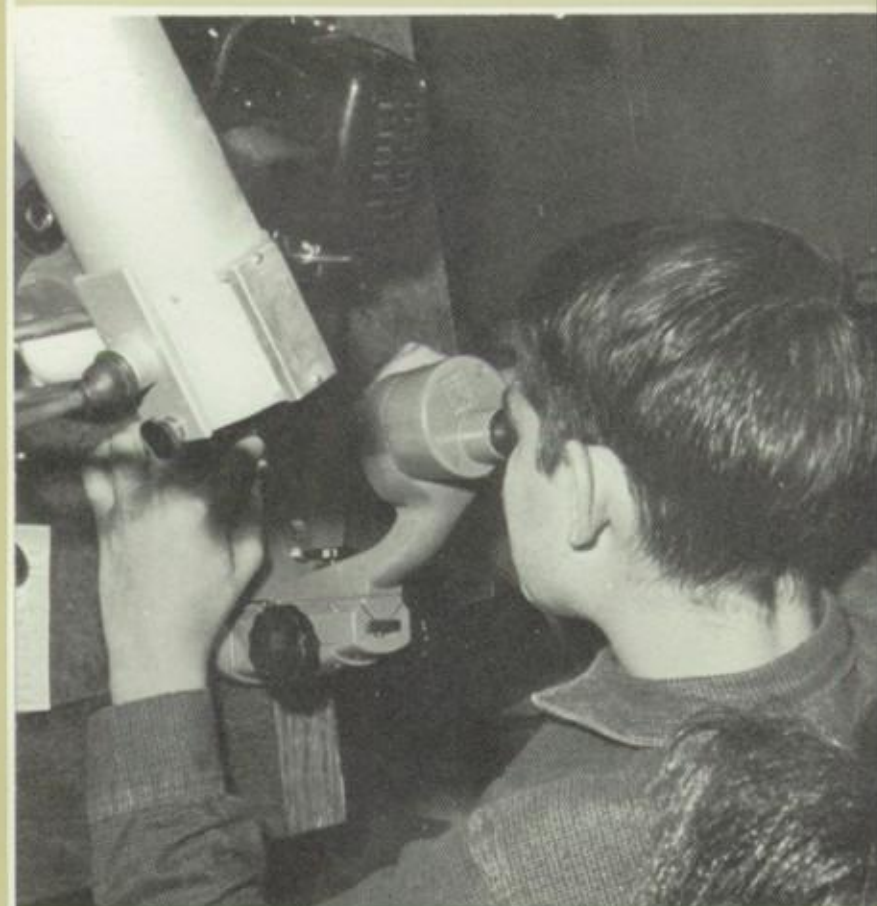

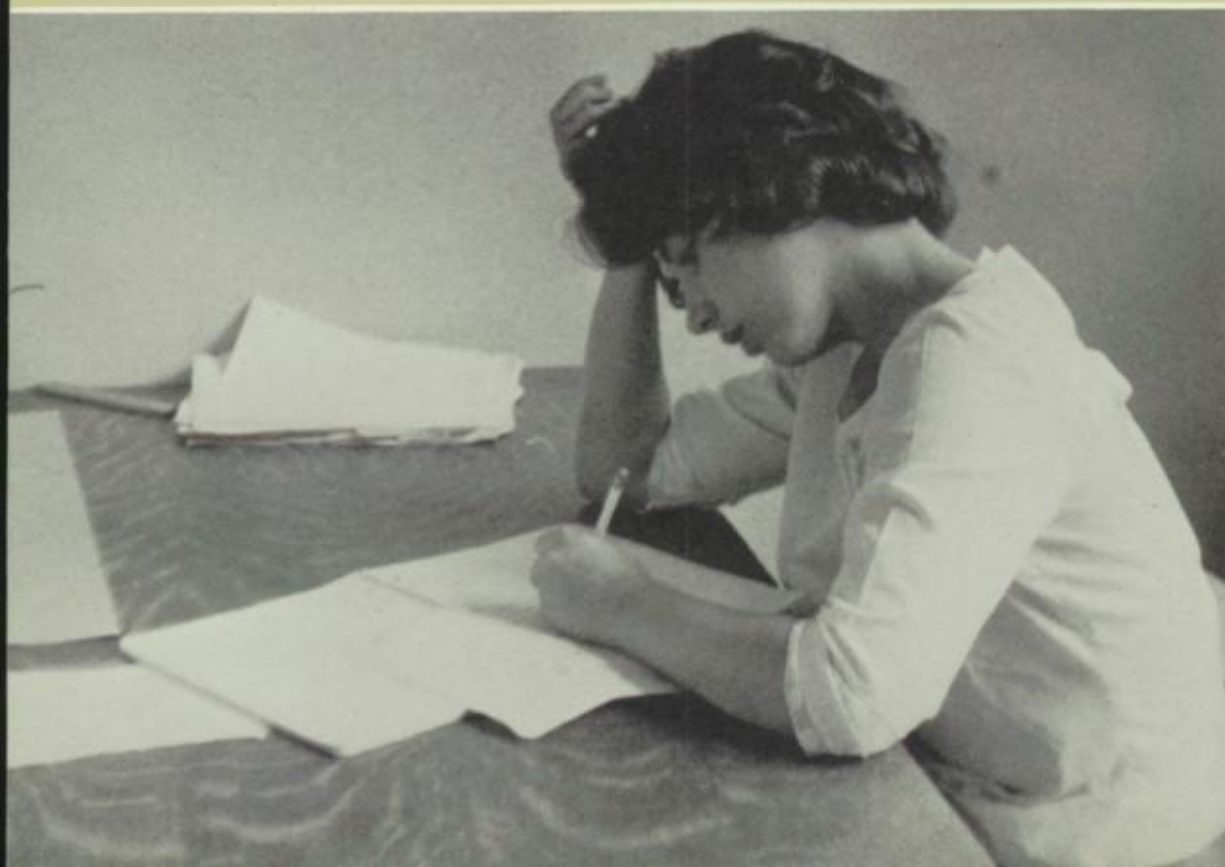

Communicate — It's always entertaining to hear fellow students speak their minds, especially when they are delightful to watch, too.

Investigate — Mrs. Brake and her biology students are busy examining the insides of some poor plants whose outsides would be much more pleasant.

Meditate — "We, the people of the United States, — I wonder where he is now — in order to form a more perfect union, — how long till the bell rings? — establish justice — justice — justice — We the people . . ."

Speculate — It appears to be fascinating — whatever it is under that microscope.

The main office is constantly bustling with business. Daily the desks of the clerks are buried with papers and forms, and main office girls run their constitutions up and down three flights of stairs.

Mr. Budd and his staff of detectives always know how, why, and where each student is.

Our various services stimulate students
To sacrifice study halls, so hard to spare.
Responsible workers receive satisfaction,
And North secures services otherwise scarce.

The stage crew works long hours, but always before and behind the curtain.

Mr. Woodruff collects athletic records, money, and pretty girls for clerks.

Five — ten — fifteen yards, and he's left the opposition behind.

To score for North, as old pros show,
Will always let opponent know
That our own bold maroon and gold
Can whop the foe and go, go, go!

"Out of the North, come the Polar Bears . . ."

Flying feet and waving hands indicate the players determination to win as the girls get an opportunity to display their athletic prowess during speedball intramurals.

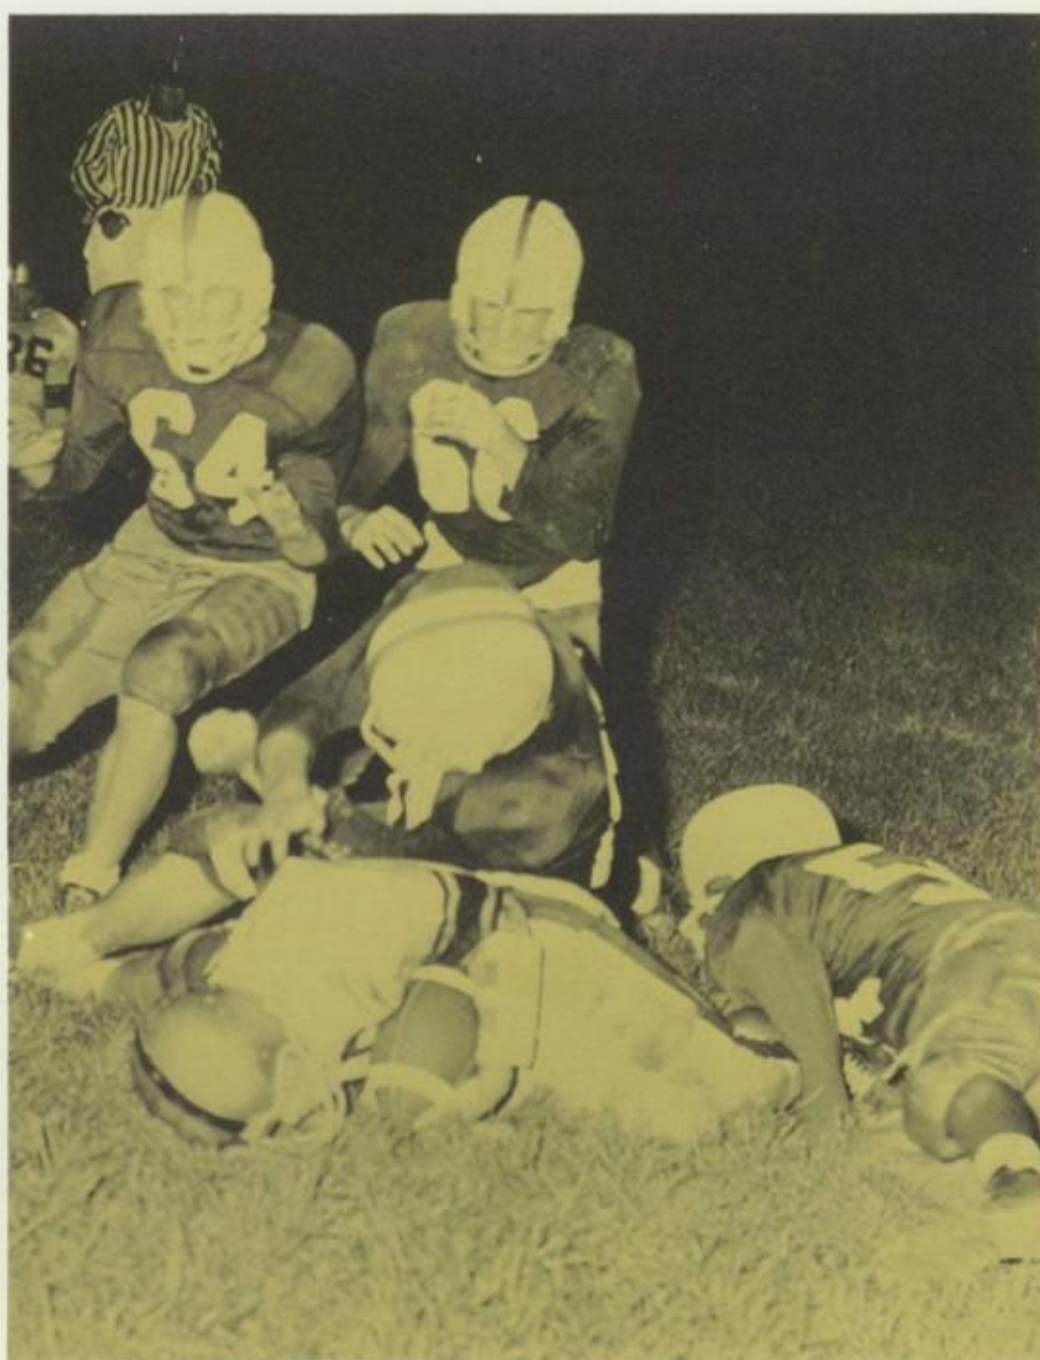

It's a down-hearted, dejected team that watches the rest of itself get beaten on the field.

Coach-player consultations result in sharpened play.

Our men fight for that ball as if it were a hunk of gold, and they usually get it.

Social life is fun and farce
At frequent festive flings and things,
When fellows over females flip,
And fools all frivolously flirt.

This is truly a "magic moment" for Queen Karen.

Many practice hours are required to perfect the music and routines which contribute spark to the football games.

Excitement and enthusiasm breed in this small square called Block N.

Paul Revere (band version) mounts his steed to spread the news of another North touchdown.

Musical talent takes many shapes and forms, but practice always remains the path to perfection.

Our extra events, then, exemplify exploits
Of those who excel, exercising expression.
They execute projects extending from singing
To writing to speaking to total exhaustion.

All the news that's fit to print is communicated through the Polaris.

"Which rhymes with spoooon . . ."

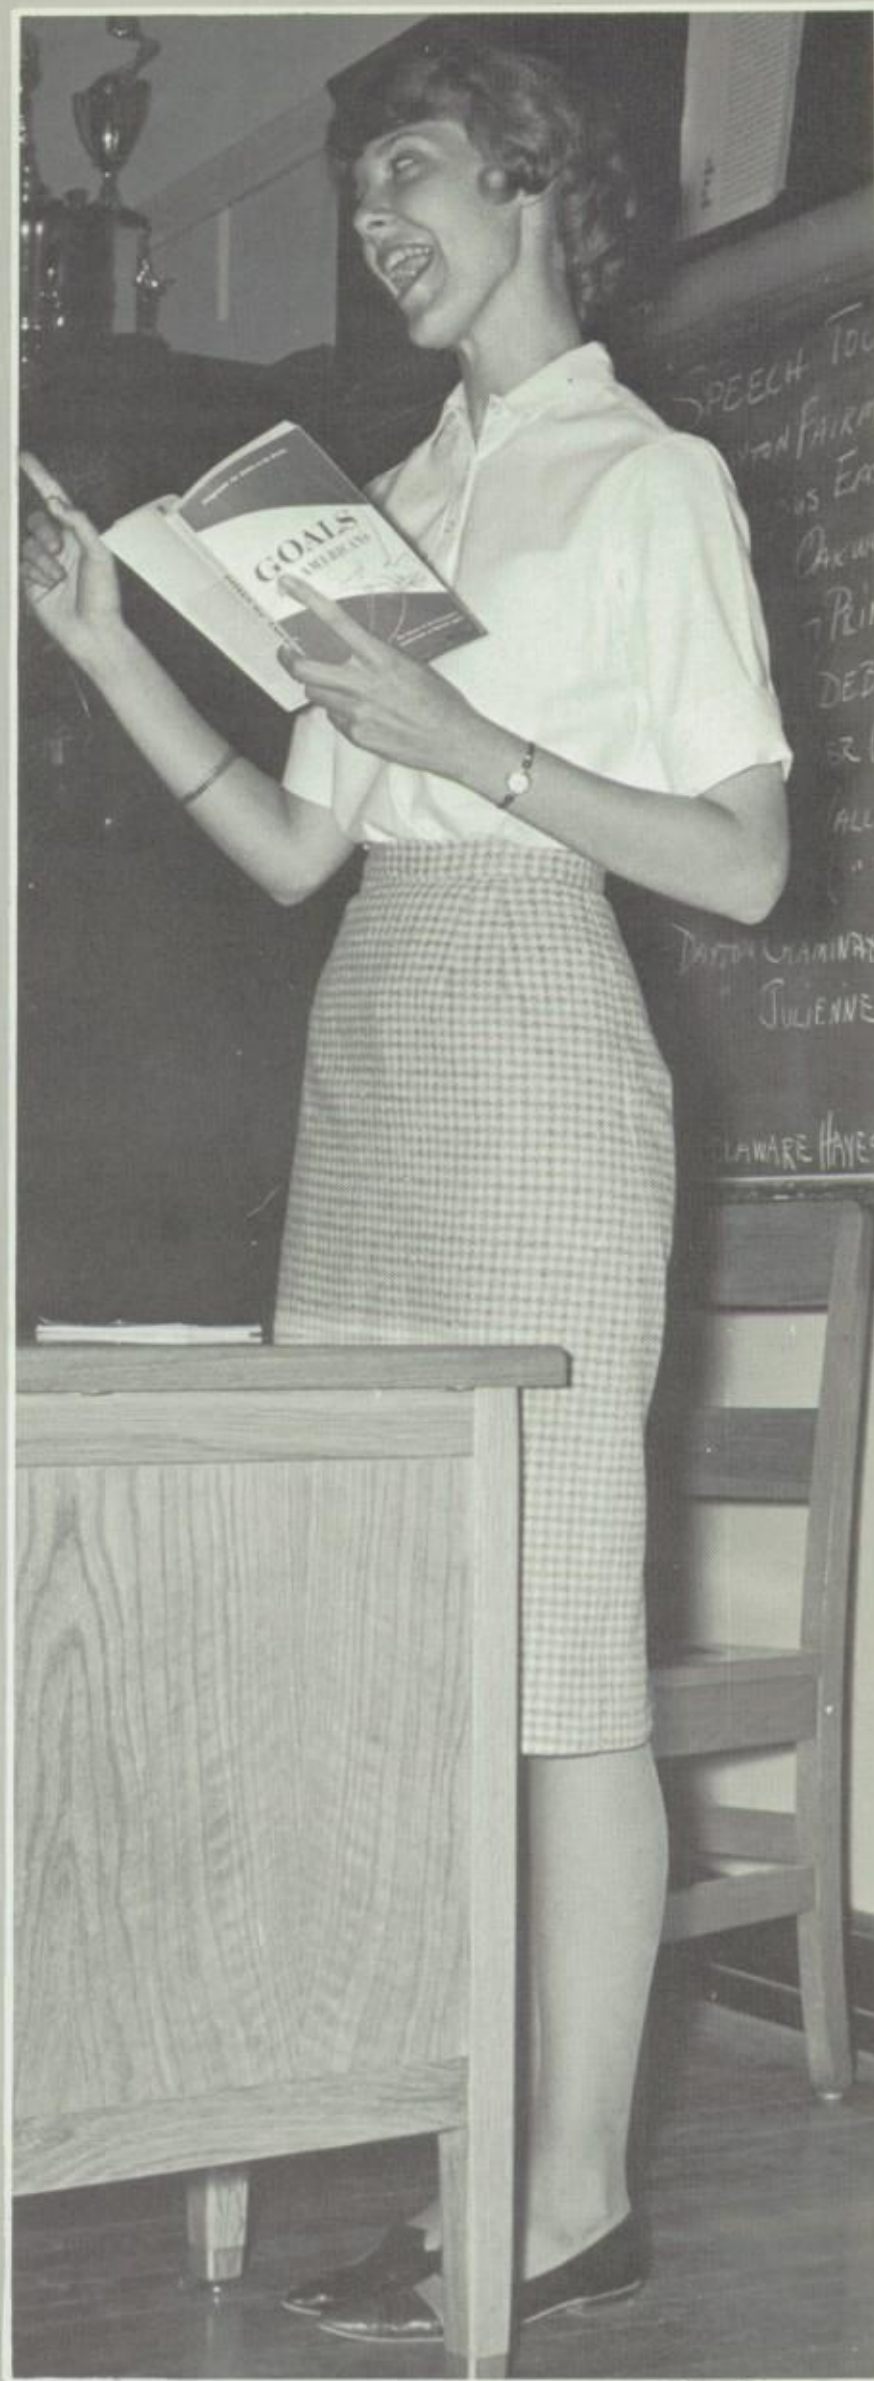

In the art gallery, student masterpieces are revealed to the critical eyes of the student body.

This incredible group of people manage not only to speak Okinawan, but to achieve an August moon in November.

A debator learns to get her point across.

Teachers laugh about, discuss, or rest from the day's classes as they await the beginning of the monthly T.V. teacher's meeting conducted by Dr. Eibling.

EDGAR HOUSE

Prudent Principal

During this school year, North High School was inspected by Mr. H. G. Jones, School Supervisor for the State Department of Education. In his official report to the Columbus Board of Education, Mr. Jones said:

"This school is efficiently organized, effectively administered, and well disciplined. The instructional program is on a high level of excellence with a number of teachers doing excellent work. Curriculum revision study results have been used effectively in up-dating the educational program in keeping with modern trends in education. Reducing the enrollment of the school has been helpful. Major changes in the school plant by new additions and modernization of the facilities for several departments have contributed greatly to physical conditions vital to quality of work by teachers and pupils. This good school continues to make progress."

North High's good reputation is greatly the result of the hard work of our principal, Mr. Edgar W. House. His competent leadership has kept North rating highly for the past thirteen years. It is greatly due to the work of Mr. House that we are able to be proud of our school. As long as he is our principal, North will undoubtedly continue to make progress.

MARY JO KUNKLER

Successful Secretary

With tense hands and fast-flying steps, one can always find Mrs. Mary Jo Kunkler frantically trying to keep the office in shape.

She is one of the general secretaries in the main office, her duties being making out office reports, taking dictation, and performing any other job that is required. She has worked in the past at the Board of Education and even done some substitute teaching at various schools. Having obtained these qualifications, Mrs. Kunkler is a vital link in the office staff.

Vigorous Vice-Principal

ROBERT DECATUR

North High's new Vice-Principal, Mr. Robert Decatur, originally hails from Columbus and is a graduate of North. He graduated from Ohio State University, where he studied art, and then served a three-year term in the Army, stationed in the South Pacific.

Mr. Decatur has been teaching in Columbus schools for several years, first at The Columbus School for Girls then Indianola Jr. High, Dominion Jr. High, and Everett Jr. High.

To Mr. Decatur, North is a changed place, but he still feels that close bond with her that only an ex-student can feel. When he was a student here North was the educational home of 2500 pupils compared to 1300 today. A family man, Mr. Decatur is married and has three young sons, who are three, six and nine. In addition to his teaching field of art, his main outside interest is traveling. He says, "If I could retire now, I would travel."

Mr. Decatur joined the North staff in January, when former vice-principal, Mr. Gordon Harris, was appointed principal of Eastmoor High School. Although he has been here only this short time, the student body has already felt his genuine interest in them and his job.

LURA POLING

An important person in the administrative side of North High is Mrs. Lura Poling, who serves as one of two general secretaries to Mr. House and Mr. Harris. Although she is kept busy with records, reception, taking dictation, and other office duties, Mrs. Poling is always pleasant and helpful to students and teachers alike. All will agree that she is truly an indispensable person at North.

MILTON BYERLY

All who know him will agree that Mr. Byerly really adds a spark of life to North High School. He always manages to brighten the day of anyone who crosses his path.

Because of his cheerfulness, one may think that Mr. Byerly's job is not hard work. But his tasks are great ones. He directs the taking of all scholarship tests at school and makes the seniors familiar with colleges they may soon attend. In addition, he gives counsel to anyone who needs it.

Mr. Byerly has had extensive training and experience, having taken courses and taught classes in several places. North High School is indeed fortunate to have Mr. Byerly as a part of its staff.

MABLE HAYNES

Miss Haynes, better known as a guidance counselor, leads a very busy life at North. Her main duties include arranging interviews for students with college representatives, making plans for college scholarship exams, checking on absentees, and also listening to the innumerable troubles of North High students. However, despite her busy days, she will always offer assistance. She interviews every new girl who enters North and finds out how this new person is becoming adjusted.

With this continual tie between Miss Haynes and the student body, any person is able to look into the possibility of a job for the future; and with the capable guidance of Miss Haynes, he can usually find it.

Despite their busy days, our counselors manage to keep a smile on practically every face in the school.

CARROLL WOODRUFF RAYMOND BUDD

One of the busiest men in this school is Mr. Woodruff. A great sports enthusiast, he has formerly served as reserve basketball coach, head basketball coach, assistant football coach, and head golf coach. Now, he has settled down to being school treasurer, bookkeeping teacher, and financial advisor to the senior class. It's an amazing fact that one man can do so many things and be successful at all of them. All these responsibilities don't seem to change Mr. Woodruff's jolly manner, though; he is always friendly and eager to help.

Mr. Budd is well-known to the teachers and students at North as being in charge of attendance and the bookroom. This is an enormous job! Even though he is aided by a competent staff of "bookroom boys" and "104 girls," Mr. Budd is always kept busy.

Once upon a time, Mr. Budd was the band director at Indianola Junior High School. He was then moved to North where he also directed the band, until he had a back injury and was forced to stop. Mr. Budd never quits, though. He soon came back with a new job, taking care of attendance and the bookroom.

META GREGG

Miss Gregg has been with North High School for the last eleven years. She originally started at North as a substitute dramatics teacher and then left for six weeks only to return as permanent dramatics teacher for six years. After that she taught English for one year and then became student activities co-ordinator, the position that she holds now.

Miss Gregg is one of the key administrators at North High School. She is in charge of the P.A. system and also teaches a class in radio speech. She prompts the student speakers at the North assemblies and is in charge of Block N. Whenever there is something to be praised at North, one can certainly say with confidence, "Miss Gregg was there."

BETTER BUSINESSMEN

If any student at North is interested in going on to a business career, he can readily get his qualifications here at school. The Business Department at North is well equipped to help students seeking a career in some field of business, whether it be as a typist, stenographer, or even the president of a company. Typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, and sales are some of the subjects taught by capable teachers in the business field. By noting the success of some previous North High graduates, one can see how well the Business Department has functioned over the years.

GIFTED GRAMMARIANS

The English Department at North consists of nine teachers who diligently concentrate their efforts on the difficult task of forcing as much knowledge as possible into the heads of their students.

Some of these capable teachers also conduct classes in dramatics, debate, and journalism. Swamped with many themes, book reports, tests, and homework assignments, these English teachers certainly deserve all the credit possible.

LEARNED LINGUISTS

"Parlez-vous francais?" "Adios, amigol!" "Sprechen sie Deutsch?" "Veni, vidi, vici." These are all familiar sounds to students taking foreign languages at North. Four years of French, Latin, and Spanish are offered, and three years of German. Approximately four-hundred fifty students take advantage of this opportunity.

This year something extra was added to the language department. This was a new language laboratory. Students using this heard themselves speak the language and compare the sound to a recording of a correct pronunciation. Although the language lab was not completed until the end of the year, it was a great advantage for language students.

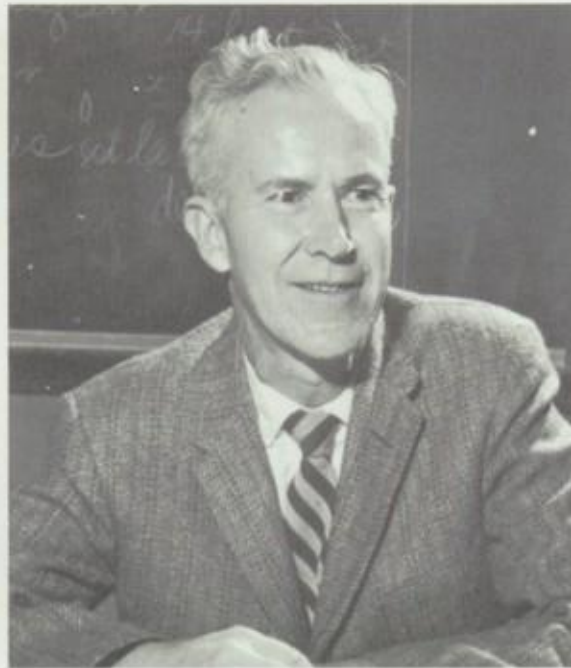

Linguists must keep their heads together so that their accents won't grow apart.

AMBITIOUS ARTISTS

Sounds of music and sights of beauty come forth from two busy rooms on the third floor of North. One is the music room, where Miss Ross leads hundreds of singers as they strive for perfection. This hard work always pays off in the many programs presented by North singers, who are always successful.

And at the end of the hall is another group of talented students, this time working for visual beauty. Instructed by Mr. Roberts, many, many young artists improve day by day. The results are displayed in North's own miniature art gallery.

Echoing up from the first floor is more music — this time instrumental instead of vocal. Under the direction of Mr. Dale, various band and orchestral groups prepare for performances ranging from football half-time shows to the annual spring concert.

Once in a while Mr. Roberts finds time to concentrate on his own artwork.

At the wave of a wand, Mr. Dale can create a sensation.

SYSTEMATIC SCIENTISTS

General science, biology, chemistry, and physics are all subjects that require study and enthusiasm. At North there are approximately 780 studious and enthusiastic students enrolled in science courses.

In the two labs at North, chemistry and physics students can actually see scientific principles in action, and biology students can do the same with the aid of microscopes provided for the biology department.

For some students this is the beginning of a lifetime career in science; for others, simply part of a well-rounded education; but for all, it is a wonderful opportunity to learn, discover, and satisfy a curiosity about the world around them.

HELPFUL HISTORIANS

How many of us have heard the history and social science teachers complaining about their students' lack of enthusiasm? Some of the not-so-bright-but-clever students use such answers as the Apian Way is a pizza pie mix and that Colonel Morton discovered pot pies.

Of course, one must take into consideration the fact that there are some compensations for the history teachers; there must be.

Looking at the job of these teachers from a serious point of view, one realizes that their task is a very important one. What they teach students now will govern the students' lives and our country, for today's students are tomorrow's leaders.

PREPARATORY COURSES FOR PEOPLES PROGRESS

There is a change from the traditional academic courses in the classrooms of home economics and industrial arts. In these classes girls practice cooking and sewing, while boys work in wood and metal. These students are certain to be future successful homemakers, craftsmen, or handymen.

Another change from algebra, English, and history, is gym class. Here boys become at least moderately skilled in football, basketball, softball, and track, while girls struggle with speedball, basketball, volleyball, and softball. The result is a more physically fit student body.

METHODICAL MATHMATICIANS

The mathematics department of North is composed of five dedicated teachers and approximately 750 ambitious students, all of whom love to roam in the realm of the abstract and the unreal! Although math courses require concentration and long hours of study, most students agree that the study of algebra, business math, geometry, shop math, and even trigonometry is very rewarding and worth the work. Who knows? One of North High's very students may some day make a great discovery in the field of mathematics.

Hustling Helpers

Did you ever wonder how the halls in North were kept so clean? Or, why the food in the cafeteria was so good? Well, the answer to these questions can be found in the capability of the extra help around North.

Under the advisorship of Mrs. Holt, the cooks in the cafeteria plan and prepare daily meals. With the help of a completely remodeled kitchen, their work is made a little easier.

Without the help of the janitors, working under Mr. Zeller, one can't imagine what North might look like. On a constant shift, even all night, the janitors keep North in top shape.

Without the constant assistance of these people, a school such as North could not exist.

Senior Council

Providing more activities for seniors is the goal of the newly-formed Senior Council. The Council plans the senior supper and Senior Olympics. It, also, discusses other activities in which all seniors may participate.

Organized for the purpose of canvassing the opinion of the senior class on school activities, the council is composed of one senior from each homeroom. Discussed this year were such activities as picnics, skating parties, hay-rides and proms.

Safety Council

Promoting school safety and obtaining a conscious safety effort are the goals of the Safety Council at North High School.

Composed of officers and delegates from Student Council, Student Court, the Polaris and Drivers' Education classes, the Council completed its second year of operation this year.

The most comprehensive activity the Council sponsored was the assembly in March, which featured a highway patrolman and a safety film.

Future Teachers of America

Getting acquainted with the teaching profession is the aim of the students who are members of one of the largest clubs at North, The Future Teachers of America.

This year the theme of the organization was "Education Out of the Classroom." Guest speakers invited to address the club on this theme this year were Dr. Harold Eibling, superintendent of schools; Dr. Mauck and Miss Brehaus.

In addition to the above speakers, members of F.T.A. sponsored a field trip to the Columbus Art Gallery in order to add to the cultural background of the future teachers.

In February the club entertained some children from the Methodist Children's Home. Another community project of the members was filling a food basket at Thanksgiving for a needy family. At Easter, the members sponsored their annual lily sale.

Venturing into the field of teaching is one of the most exciting advantages of being a member of the F.T.A.

This year future teachers were given the opportunity occasionally to supervise a high school class and thus learn what it is really like to sit at the front of the aisle instead of in them.

Also, members responded enthusiastically to the substitute teaching and Medary projects.

In addition to filling the shoes of a teacher for a day, members annually pay tribute to the teachers of North High by presenting them with an apple and an appropriate poem.

Thus through listening, observing, and practicing, F.T.A. members become informed about the teaching profession on the elementary and high school level.

F.T.A. members, like Kathie, take opportunities to practice their future profession upon classmates who serve as "guinea pigs."

Science Club

Science Club (as can be guessed by the name) is an organization of enthusiastic science students who like to continue their study of this subject beyond their science classes. Advised by Mrs. Brake, Mr. Lanese, and Mr. Sproat, members find science to be fun as well as hard work.

Meetings were occasionally highlighted by films or other extras that were interesting to the scientifically inclined students.

Chess Club

Chess Club, with Mr. Sparrow as advisor, consists of thirty avid members who pursue the king-hunting game known as Chess. At the beginning of the year, instruction is the theme at the open weekly meetings; but as the year progresses, elimination tournaments determine the members of the Chess Team. This team then arranges matches with other schools, such as Grandview, Arlington, Worthington, and West.

An old song by a young quartet provides entertainment for Hi-Y's.

The Hi-Y

The purpose of Hi-Y is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character." The meaning of the phrase is reflected in the enthusiastic response to club programs of its more than 100 members.

The hard-working cabinet, under the watchful eye of its adviser, Mr. Rice, plans many interesting and informative programs for the monthly meeting. These meetings are held on special assembly days.

One of the highlights of the year was the annual inspirational Christmas program, which was held traditionally with the Y-Teens.

The Hi-Y

Programs for the Hi-Y are varied and interesting. In the fall, films of football games and a panel discussion with football players, provided a humorous, light program.

Several ministers and other community leaders spoke to the club, giving the boys insight into their career, experiences, and wisdom.

The culmination of all club activities came at the end of the year when Hi-Y and the Y-Teens joined forces to sponsor the annual spring dance, the Orginc.

French Club

Leading off the year was the French Club's first meeting where two members showed slides from their trips abroad. This was followed by a spread at Anne Mercer's home in November and a Christmas party in December. The members added a touch of the festive French spirit when they sang carols for the rest of the student body in the annual Foreign Language Christmas Program at school.

One of the most enjoyable events was the French Banquet held at the Ohio Union in which one thousand pupils from high schools from all over the city took part. Every advanced class had the opportunity this year to prepare a skit for the enjoyment of the other members on Culture Day, January 15. In March a speaker from Ohio State University lectured to the French students.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is an organization for students who are interested in learning about Spanish as a language, about the people who speak Spanish and the countries where Spanish is spoken.

The Spanish Club has always had a great variety of programs. Over the past year the club has been host to many speakers from Latin America. Movies and slides have helped the members better understand life in the Spanish countries.

Besides guest speakers and movies, the Spanish Club had a weiner roast in the fall. A "Pinta Party" was held before the Christmas holidays. With this party, the students learned a little about how the children of Latin America celebrate Christmas.

The Spanish Club has provided both interesting and enjoyable meetings for all of the North High students who were able to join. Along with their advisor, Miss Chandler, the members have achieved their purpose; to better understand the Spanish language.

Excited Spanish enthusiasts wait on the sidelines while an athletic member swings wildly at the pinata, which is filled with Christmas goodies.

Virgilian Club

"Non vivere, sed vales, est vita"—not to live, but to be able, is life. This is the motto of North's Virgilian Club.

Under the supervision of adviser, Mrs. DeWees, the Virgilians listen to speakers, present plays and skits in Latin, and enjoy themselves at traditional parties and picnics.

In order to increase their knowledge of the Romans and their language, club members study the different kinds of Roman wearing apparel, mythology, and the famous men of the Roman world, such as Caesar, Cicero, Ovid and Horace.

The main social activity of the year is the Roman banquet. At this festival, Latin students wear togas or stolas and pallas, depending upon whether they are of the elite, who have four years of Latin, or of the peons who have merely three or fewer years of Latin.

Each year, Virgilian Club members attend the National Junior Classical League Convention, where they exhibit projects and present plays.

"Adeste Fidelis" is the traditional song presented by the Virgilians at the Foreign Language assembly. They also sang "Jingle Bells" in Latin, which sounded new even to Santa.

"I know Berlin was in Germany the last time I looked"—German Club members study German geography and customs as well as the German tongue

German Club

Enthusiasm ran high as the German Club embarked upon another successful year.

The purpose of Der Deutsch Verein, or German Club, is to acquaint the members with Germany as it was once and as it is today in order that students might better appreciate the customs of the German people, and to promote the social life of its members.

The meetings, held on the fourth Friday of every month, were conducted in German so the students had a chance to put to practical use what they learned in class. At one of the meetings a speaker from Ohio State University spoke about his travel in Germany. The speech was given in German.

This year was highlighted by the club's annual Christmas spread and caroling fest. In May, a picnic was held along the Scioto River.

North High Art Club

Doodlers and budding Rembrandts are both invited to join the North High Art Club; for it is the purpose of this club to stimulate interest in and provide interesting information on the many aspects of art.

Speakers and films comprise the major types of programs presented for Art Club members. All types of art from modern to that of the Old Masters is discussed and investigated to help members further their knowledge of art.

On the lighter side, the club sponsors parties such as the Christmas party and the picnic in the spring.

Also, at Christmas time, the club filled a basket for a needy family.

The chief change in procedure of the club this year was the change in name from Marigale Art Club to the North High Art Club. The adviser of this organization is Mr. Roberts.

Art Club president, Kathy Nicholson, tacks an art project to the display board in the gallery.

Betty Lamp Club

The Betty Lamp Club is an organization for all girls who are interested in being of service to themselves, their school, and their community.

Each month this year the club had regularly planned programs which included guest speakers, educational meetings, and social meetings. Some of the topics which were discussed by the speakers were home management, foods and dietetics, and the texture of fabrics. The club also held its annual picnic which proved to be full of fun for all who attended.

Betty Lamp's Annual Saddle Hop was the first dance held in the newly remodeled gym. Club members planned for long hours in order to insure that everyone would "Have a Circus," the theme, at this first home dance of the year.

The members, officers, and the advisers, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Robb, worked together this past year to uphold the club's motto: "As our girlhood is now, so should our womanhood be."

Clef Club

Clef Club is a service organization for the North High Instrumental Department. Composed of girls, the club sponsors an annual Christmas part and provides food and entertainment for the children at the State School at Easter.

Money-making projects of the club include car washes, paper drives, and the sale of white gloves to the Marching Band.

Bible Club

The purpose of the Bible Club is to grow spiritually and lead other young people to Christ. Every morning the members hold an open meeting in room 203 at 8:15 and have a meaningful session of Bible study, group singing, scripture reading and worship. The officers this year, working under the advisership of Mrs. Brake, are Jean Ring, president, and Clare Stewart, secretary-treasurer.

Junior Red Cross

Helping those who need help seems to be the constant activity of the Junior Red Cross at North.

At the beginning of the year, this club held a membership drive which resulted in the recruitment of approximately fifty members. The club met the third Wednesday of each month, with their meetings being social as well as business in nature.

Distributive Education

The North High D. E. C. A. Club is a member of the Distributive Education Clubs of America. Comprised of members of the Distributive Ed. class at North High School, the club aims to inform its members of careers in retail selling.

Club members are all employed in retail selling in addition to attending school.

The Y-Teens

The largest club at North is the Y-Teen organization. Operating as part of the world-wide Young Women's Christian Association, the club is open to all girls at North.

The purpose of the club is "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people and to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

"To speak and find and give the best" is the motto which all club members strive to fulfill.

Y-Teen members perform many useful services for the community and the school and also have many good times together. Among the money-making projects of the club are selling pencils every day at school and selling mums for Homecoming.

It was a frantic fling as Y-Teen officers told in skit form who would be who for the coming school year.

Among the service projects of the club are ushering for the fall play and working on a Christmas project for needy and worthwhile organizations. This year the club responded tremendously to the call for food and toys for needy children; stuffed toys and canned foods were overflowing in their adviser's (Mrs. Tracewell) room.

In addition, the club is in charge of the school clinic.

As far as community service is concerned members annually participate in Links. Through this project, Y-Teens work in nurseries, hospitals, rest homes for the aged, and settlement houses.

In the fall, the Y-Teens participate in the city-wide dance, The Fall Fantasy; and in the spring they sponsor the Orginc, along with the Hi-Y.

Polaris Staff

What's new about the Polaris this year? The attitude, that's what! Everything is on the up, including the new budget which totals some $2000.

In an effort to streamline the typography of the newspaper, a new head was designed — now there is no snow, just type.

Giving students more for their money, this year's staff published ten papers instead of nine. Two of these issues — the Homecoming and Senior issues — featured six pages instead of the usual four.

Students were encouraged to contribute to the Polaris when the staff placed a shocking pink gossip box outside Room 115. Readers were also asked to contribute questions which the editor could ask Supt. Harold Eibling at his high school press conferences, which were introduced this year.

Another press conference attended by Polaris editors was that of Abigail Van Buren (Dear Abby), who appeared in Columbus in February.

Interviewing, covering beats, writing, rewriting, selling ads, selling papers, distributing papers, learning techniques — Polaris staff members must adapt themselves to all of these tasks. It takes courage to ask a merchant to buy an ad, and it takes imagination to write an interesting story about annual or routine events; but when the finished product, the Polaris, is in print, all the effort seems well-spent.

Sometimes the deadlines take their toll on Polaris editors. Shown after a tough deadline are Deanna Pullins, copy editor; Barb Schultz, feature editor; Linda Shockey, editor; and Jeanne Greenlee, news editor.

Polaris reporter and editors won many trophies and awards this year. Displaying some of these awards are Nancy Thomas, business manager with the awards from the Tuberculosis Society's Press Project; and Linda Shockey, Barb Schultz and Julie Banta with first place trophies they won at the annual workshop of the High School Press Club of Central Ohio.

Two eager sports editors, Kathy Nicholson and Joe Downey, scan the Polaris for possible errors.

Money brings smiles to the faces of the Polaris staff on publication days. Shown counting the day's receipts are Sandy Baker, Jim Alley (circulation manager), and Chris Dignan.

Writing Polaris copy takes cooperation. Working here on a big story are Julie Banta, Sharon Diamond. Watching them are Donna Goodman, Pat Bailey, Sam Matchett and Jeanne Begien.

The always alert editor, Linda Shockey, reviews stories for the next Polaris with the staff.

Piles of copy and stacks of pictures are reviewed by Phoebe Beetham, editor, and Jo Kovitz, assistant editor.

Memory Book Staff

"Bigger and better" is the cry of the 1963 Memory Book staff. Working with the theme "Reflections in Maroon and Gold," the staff sought this year to improve the already high standards of the Memory Book.

Guided by their adviser-teacher-sympathizer, Mrs. Bontempo, the staff learned while doing. There were schedules to plan for page placement and photography; there were layouts to be made, using old Life pictures and copy (some were "way-out"); there was copy to write about everything at North; there were pictures to be taken and cropped, type styles to be selected and paste-ups to be completed; and there were many fingernails to be sacrificed to the fast-flying typewriters.

In addition to this production work, staff members had to sacrifice many weekend and after-school hours to sell ads to Columbus business men.

Although the schedule is demanding, Memory Book staff members enjoy their work and feel supreme satisfaction when the first copy arrives to be read and admired by them in secret.

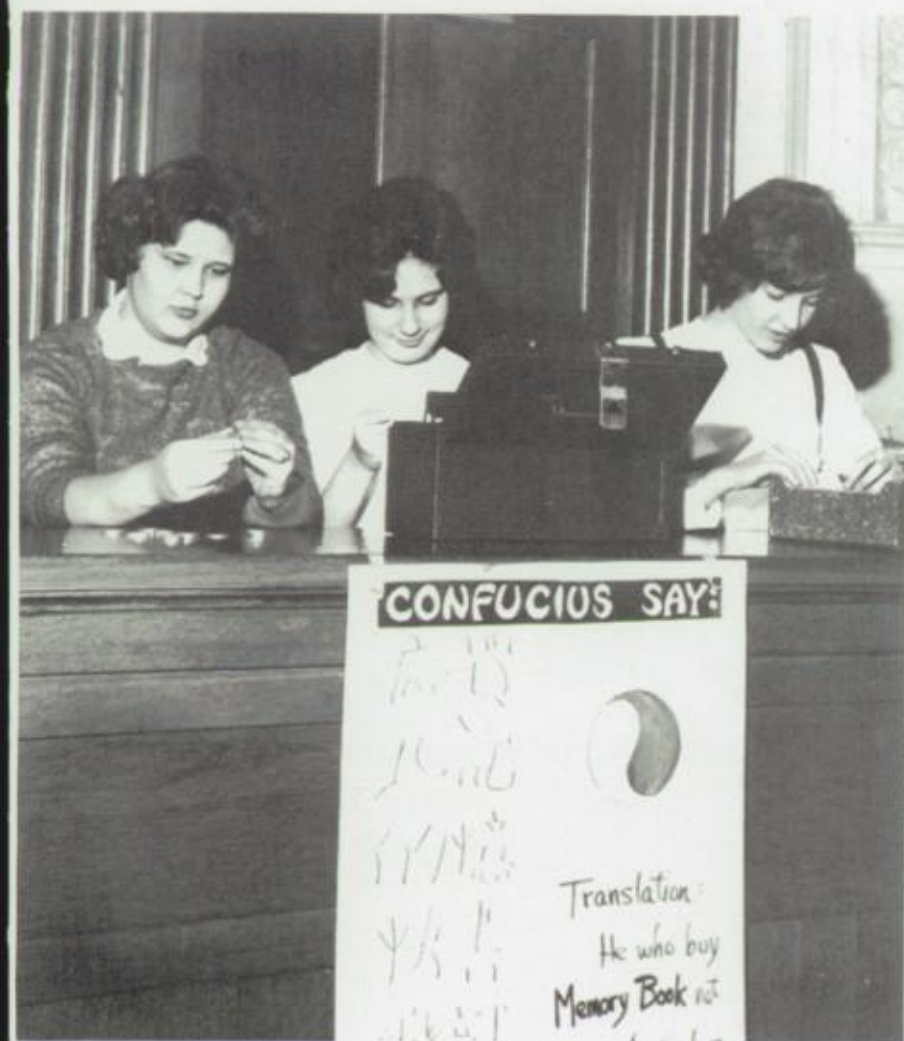

On the lighter side, the staff enjoys several parties a year and their in-class freedom.

Varied tasks keep these six girls busy. At left, Carol Hungate and Carol Poling, senior editors, discuss engraving fees and glossies. In the center, Bev Beavens and Carol Scherzer practice their keyboard skill. And at right, Bonnie McCray and Candy Bateman alphabetize student cards for the index.

Advanced Art—Art Helpers

Students with special art abilities and interests are chosen to be in the advanced art class taught by Mr. Roberts. Meeting for two hours a day, these budding artists explore various art media, experimenting and creating. Each student is encouraged to express himself.

Throughout the year, these talented students enter their work in contests and fairs. Many of them sell their paintings and win sizeable awards.

One function of the advanced art class performs for the school is the creation of posters and cover designs. The creations of the students are displayed in the art gallery outside the art room.

Camera Service— Audio Visual

Camera Service, under the expert leadership of Mr. Sparrow, has as its big assignment, the shooting of most of the pictures for the Memory Book. From their base in Room 330, the eager shutterbugs fan out over the entire building in search of just the right shot to please the editors. Then it's back to the darkroom to "soup" the film and see if the results are as expected. Countless rolls of film and untold gallons of developers and other smelly chemicals are used, but the results usually prove to be worth all the toil and trouble.

Audio-Visual aids, such as recorders, record players, and even filmstrips, are available for the use of teachers who order them especially for certain classes or subjects.

While it may seem like a tremendous amount of effort to run such a service, the boys are conscientious and hard-working.

Soc. and Rec. Council      Student Court

The Social and Recreational Council, or the "Social-Rec." as it is called by most of North's student body, consists of twelve seniors whose duty it is to assist in planning the school's club activities. The Council meets everyday during the ninth period, and is advised by Miss Gregg and Mr. Dupre. Sponsoring the Belle and Beau Prom, which has become an annual event at North, is the greatest single undertaking of the Council. This year they also financed the Paperback Book Rack in the library. The Social-Rec. Council certainly does a great service to North.

"The Student Court of North High School will now come to order!" This is the way each session of the judiciary branch of student government commences.

The Court consists of ten Seniors elected by the student body. They include the Chief Justice, six judges, and three clerk-bailiffs.

The responsibility of this court is two-fold: to determine the verdict of each trial and to help the individual in a profitable rehabilitation process. By fulfilling these responsibilities, the Student Court aids in making North a better institution of learning.

Student Council

The student's voice at North is well represented in the North High Student Council. A single representative is elected in the sophomore and junior homerooms, and a boy and a girl each are elected in the Senior homerooms.

The purpose of these elected members is to attend the meetings and to report to their homerooms what transpired during the meeting. With this continual tie between students and the Student Council, everyone at North is given an equal opportunity to voice his opinion in the school's government.

Under the advisorship of Mr. Milton R. Byerly, North's Student Council performs many helpful services. Among these are selling football and basketball programs, collecting money for charity from "Pennies, Potatoes, and Apples Day", sponsoring the Memory Lane Prom, and purchasing much of the extra service equipment. Printing a new handbook and helping with Career week were big projects undertaken by the Council this year.

Library Staff

Headed by North's librarian, Mrs. Wright, the library staff consists of students who volunteer their services to help keep the library running efficiently.

Contrary to common belief, the library assistants are neither book worms nor wall-flowers. To substantiate this statement, the staff has various social events and activities just as many of North's other organizations do.

Paperback Staff

The paperback book staff was something new this year. It was originated along with the newly created paperback book rack. Through the initiative of Miss Gregg, cooperation of Mrs. Wright, and service of the paperback book staff, a wide selection of paperback books was made available for sale to students at North.

Special Services

The main purpose of the Cafeteria Club here at North is to provide for these hard working individuals an opportunity to get better acquainted and to have some fun. Each year the club meetings include a Halloween Party, a Christmas Party, a Valentine Party, and in the spring, a picnic.

The club has a point system by which upon earning a specific number of points members are awarded a certificate, a pin, and an achievement pin, in that order.

The members of the Cafeteria Club not only do a great service to the school but also find enjoyment with their fellow workers.

Cafeteria Club

Did you ever wonder where the daily bulletin comes from? Did you ever stop to count all the mimeographed tests that you — only one student — take in a semester? Did you ever notice how efficiently announcements are spread through the school? "Every student receives one." Does that sound familiar? What about the absence list? There is one behind-the-scenes organization that deserves more credit than is usually given it, and that is Special Services. North High's Special Services Department was the first of its kind in the entire United States. Advised by Mr. Briggs, members manage to type, mimeograph, and duplicate mounds of tests and countless other materials.

Main Office Staff

The main office could not be run as smoothly as it is without the help of the Junior and Senior girls who work there a period each day. They assist the clerks, Mrs. Kunkler and Mrs. Poling, by filing student information cards, typing minor reports, answering the telephone, etc. They also aid Mr. House and Mr. Decatur by "tracking down" pupils and teachers, and running various errands.

103 Staff

Room 103 is better known as "Woody's Office". The main duties of the staff members are to sell tickets to sports events, make out eligibility cards and keep records of sports officials and referees. The staff members also act as receptionists when club members come in the office to deposit funds.

Acting as receptionists, typists, and errand girls, are some of the duties of the girls who are asked to serve on the 105 staff. Under the guidance of Miss Mable Haynes, the girls also file pamphlets on careers and colleges and take care of the clinic.

106 Staff

The 106 staff, works under the advisorship of Mr. Milton Byerly. Their main jobs are administering and scoring vocational, aptitude, and intelligence tests. They also do some clerical work, and run errands and help students with finding college preparational material.

Blue slips, pink slips, white slips — all are important record-keeping devices used by the 104 Staff.

The main purpose of the girls on the 104 staff is to assist Mr. Budd in attendance records. They type and distribute attendance slips, tend to the "report to the office" slips, and they take care of any telephone business.

Bookroom Staff

The Bookroom staff, supervised by Mr. Budd, assumes the responsibility of handling all of the North High textbooks and issuing numerous books to the many new students at North. The staff is in charge of reconditioning all of the "work-worn" books and counting, checking and rechecking the texts to the satisfaction of Mr. Budd.

Radio Staff

The delightful voices you often hear in the morning are produced by the Radio Staff, an organization made up of students interested in public speaking and taking the Radio-T.V. course. They have all "mastered" the new P.A. System at North and are completely capable of handling broadcasts under the able direction of Miss Mete Gregg.

This group consists of all seniors with the exception of two juniors, who obtained special permission to enter this course. There are two students stationed at the console in the Radio Room every period to handle any announcements or to "pipe" programs into various rooms whenever requested.

Stage Crew

Endangering life and limb by crawling along the girders in the gym and scaling tall ladders, the Stage Crew members are among the unsung heroes of North.

These eight boys serve as very good examples of the willingness to work of the North student body. Among their service tasks are the handling of all the technicalities of assemblies, managing the behind-the-scenes activities of the Fall and Senior plays, and operating the Public Address system at all home games. The crew is competently guided by its adviser, Mr. Spence.

Student Life

"Responsible workers receive satisfaction

And at the same time are of use to the school."

The moods of rehearsal are many. Here leading lady, Cheri, and student director Linda Van Develde, smile as Mr. Dupre wonders what to do about that last scene.

Sakini (with socks down) says goodbye to "boss" as he and Capt. Fisby leave for the village.

Fall Play

"Teahouse of the August Moon"

On November 16, North's stage was transformed into an Okinawan village for preparation of a most happy play, "The Teahouse of the August Moon." The play was under the direction of Mr. Donald Dupre and Linda Van Develde, student director.

Doug Rund played Sakini who was a confused Okinawan interpreter for the United States Army. He indulged constantly in confusing the boisterous Colonel Purdy, played by Joe Downey. Captain Fisby, played by Stan Cameron, seemed to be the real hero of the story. Through his ambitious attempts he modernized a remote village in Okinawa — by building a Teahouse.

Lotus Blossom, played by Cheri Osuga, had a big job cut out for her when she tried to entice Captain Fisby into allowing her to teach him the ways of a Number One Geisha Girl.

Other roles were played by Cheryl Wonderling as Miss Higa Jiga, an unmarried woman who chased all the men in the Village; Bill Graham as Sergeant Gregovich; Jim Davis as Captain McClean; Ray Berry as Mr. Ashira; Chris Northrup as the old woman and Barb Shultz as her daughter; Denny McCoy as Mr. Hokaido; John Porter as Mr. Seiko; Jim Pribble as Mr. Sumata; Jay Thomas as Mr. Sumata's Father; Jeff Nye as Mr. Omura; Dick Green as Mr. Keora.

Army communications between Fisby and Purdy become hilarious after the Geisha girl makes her appearance.

Okinawan villagers and Sakini oversee the loading of the junk which, much to his amazement, Capt. Fisby is to drive to a remote village.

Capt. Fisby listens to the wise words of the old Okinawan while the villagers watch curiously.

The villagers were portrayed by Tracy Heeter, Jim Tolliver and George Walter. The Ladies League for Democratic Action were Kay Coffey, Brenda Hawk, Gail Lawson, Cindy McElligott, Nancy Thomas and Judy Wilson. The Okinawan children were Sam Price, Carol Price, Betsy Dupre and Jeff Dupre. The goat, Lady Astor, portrayed herself.

With the fair August Moon setting behind the Okinawan Teahouse the cast bids North students a most happy Sayonara.

Hollywood couldn't have cast a better Lotus Blossom than North's Cheri Osuga.

The villagers seem much happier with their teahouse instead of Capt. Purdy's pentagon-shaped school building.

National Forensic League

Harry S. Truman, Richard M. Nixon, and Art Linkletter are among the members of the National Forensic League, an organization of people who enjoy speaking and improving their speaking abilities.

These students spend many Saturdays participating in speech tournaments at various schools. They may enter in debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, oratorical, dramatic, humorous interpretation, and student congress. Here they earn points according to their ratings. They must earn twenty-five points to achieve membership, and then they may continue to earn higher degrees by earning more and more points.

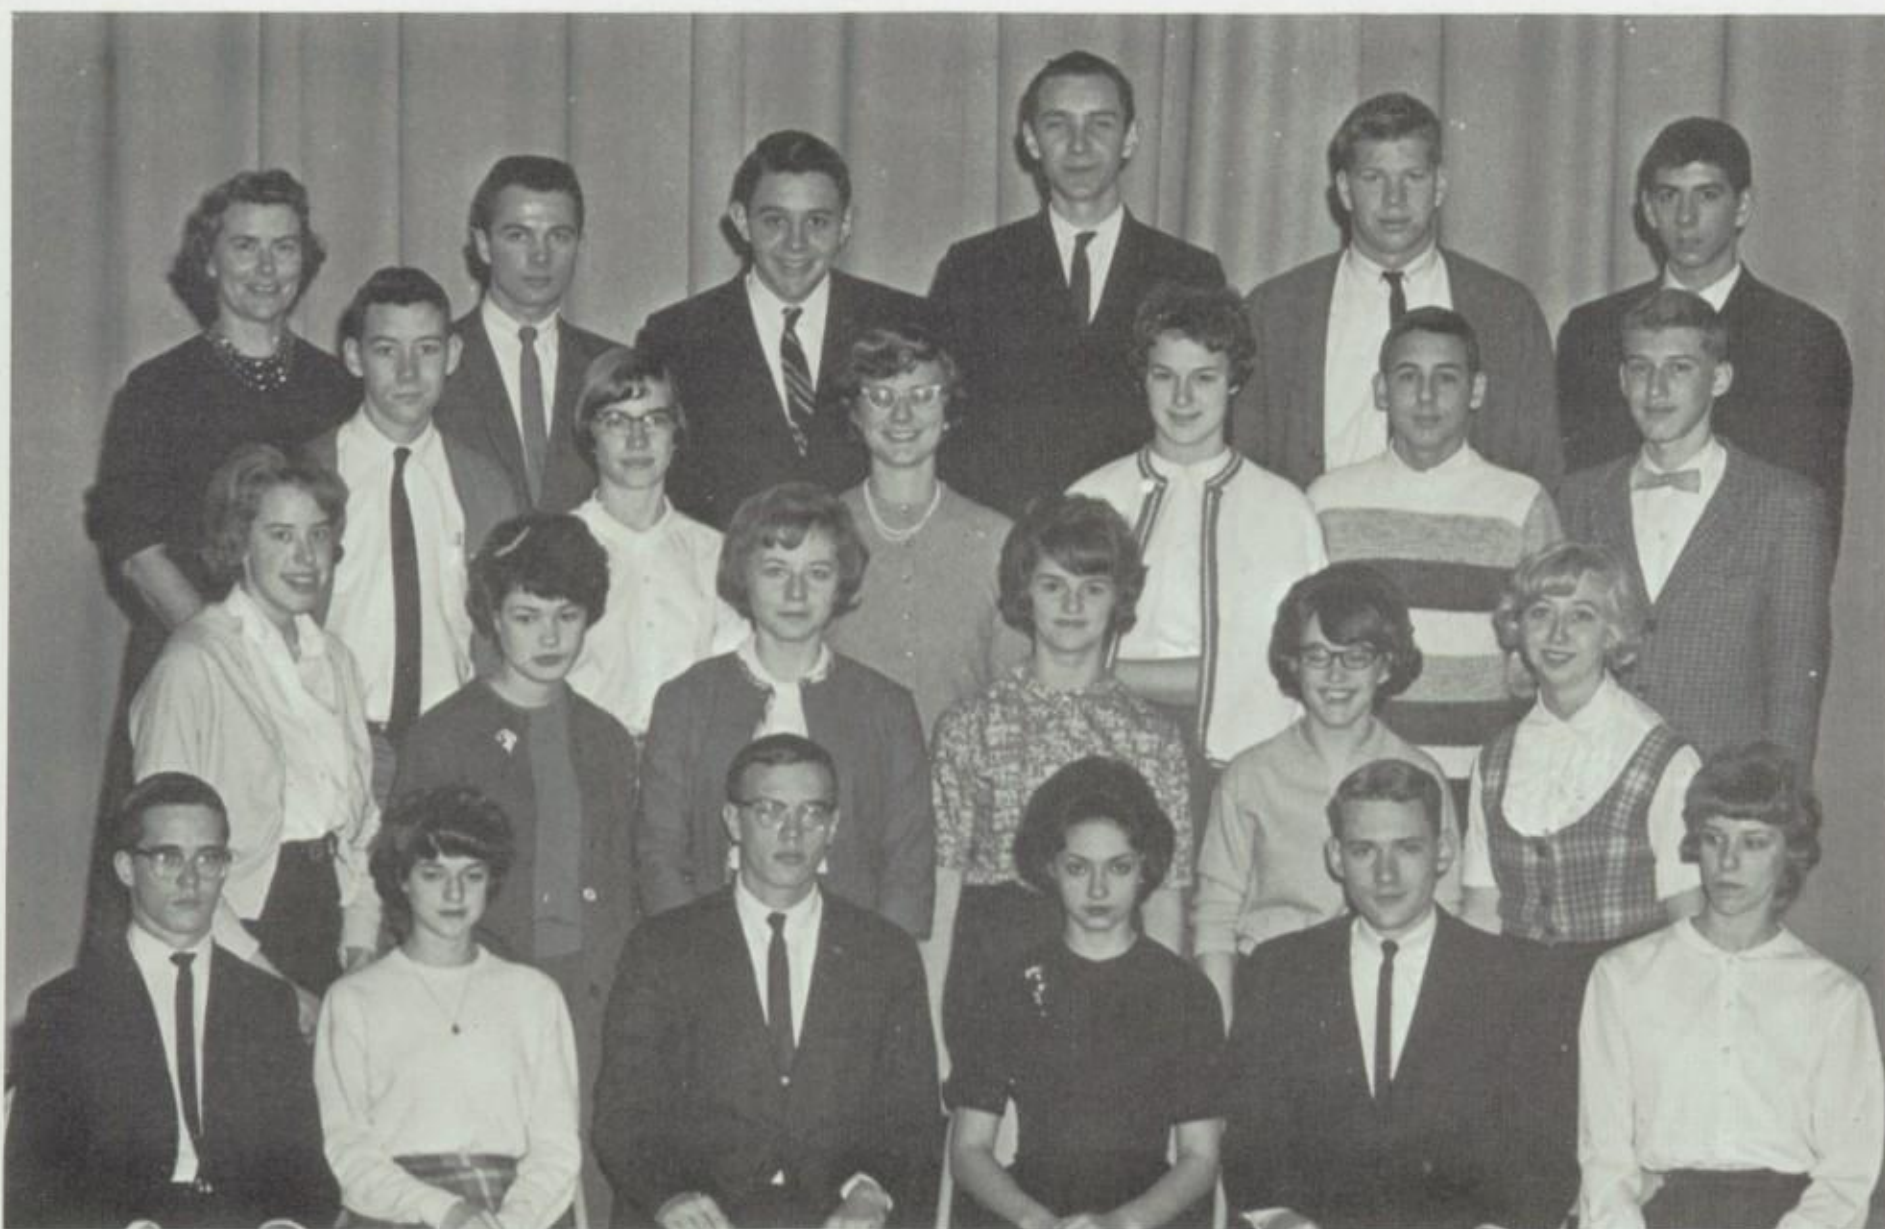

Working with their advisors, Mrs. Blair and Mr. Dupre, members of N.F.L. find speech activities to be highly profitable, and all would agree that N.F.L. is one of the greatest organizations to which a high school student may belong.

General Scholarship Team

"The cube root of 3600 is  $\alpha$ ,  $\beta$ , or  $\gamma$  . . . the author of Look Homeward Angel is . . ." — members of the General Scholarship Team are tested in all academic areas.

Mike Beckman and Joanne Miller ranked first and second at North High School in General Scholarship Test competition. Mike with a score of 775 ranked first in Franklin County, and Joanne who scored 749 points placed twenty-second in the state among the girls.

Other North students who ranked in the upper five per cent of the state on the test were Dave Allen, Dick Barrows, Thomas Orvis, Susan Roth, Linda Shockey and Lawrence Smith.

These high-ranking students were part of the North General Scholarship Team which was chosen in October. These students spent a month in review of the various subject areas. In the state as a whole 23,000 seniors took the test.

National Honor Society

In November, fifty-two senior students were selected for membership into the Charles P. Everett Chapter of the National Honor Society. These students were chosen because of outstanding ability in scholarship, leadership, citizenship, character, and service. The group elected the following officers: President—Doug Shepard. Vice-President — Robert Keck, Secretary — Julie Ogle, and Treasurer — Jim LeBay. Being elected into this organization is the highest honor North High School can bestow upon a student.

Senior Choir

North has traditionally had a superior Senior Choir, one of the best in the state. Much of the credit for this fine record must be given to Miss Evelyn Ross, whose leadership has inspired many choirs.

Dick Green, president of Senior Choir, and student director, has lead the choir in many of their activities throughout the year.

The Senior Choir is an outstanding group of mixed voices under the direction of Miss Ross. It participates in many school activities, as well as various community affairs.

The group meets three times a week and has numerous practice sessions. It sings at many assemblies and also carols through the halls before the Christmas holidays.

The Senior Choir participates in district and state music contests, and in an annual festival at St. John's Arena. The voices of the Senior Choir give the impressive music for the graduating class. North High can be proud of the performances of its Senior Choir.

Junior Choir

The Junior Choir, composed mostly of junior girls and boys, is a preparation for Senior Choir. Under the direction of Miss Ross, with Susan Nott as accompanist, this group receives valuable training.

Included in their repertoire this year were "Hallelujah Chorus", "Jesus, Jesus Rest Your Head", "Carol of the Drum", "There's No Hiding Place", and "Onward Christian Soldiers". This group performs once annually for the Spring Concert. Their yearly project is Kinder Key Christmas Caroling in which most of the members participate.

Boys' and Girls' Glee

Boys from Senior Choir and Junior Choir make up the Boys' Glee Club. Meeting two days a week, the Glee Club practices and perfects songs for the Thanksgiving Assembly program and for the Spring Concert.

The Girls' Glee Club is composed mainly of girls from Senior Choir. Like the Boys' Glee Club, Girls' Glee meets twice a week. Among the numbers perfected by this choral group this year were "Take Joy Home" and "The 23rd Psalm," which it sang at the Thanksgiving Assembly. The girls also sing for the Spring Concert.

Mixed Ensemble

The Mixed Ensemble is composed of the best singing voices at North and is the most outstanding vocal group in the school. The Ensemble makes appearances that would be difficult for a larger group to manage; one of the most well known is "T'was the Night Before Christmas" which has become a tradition at every Christmas Assembly at North. Although it takes talent and a lot of work to be in the Ensemble, the enjoyment and satisfaction of a job well-done makes it worth the effort.

Polarians

The Polarians are a select group of students interested in the dance band style of instrumentation. They may be found hard at work every day fifth period practicing for their activities. These consist of playing for school dances after games, club meetings, and pep assemblies. Under the direction of one of the two student leaders, Eric Hartman or Jim Davis, they play out of school also.

Cadet Band

Training students for the Marching Band is the function of the Cadet Band. Members of this instrumental group practice diligently and make a public appearance at the annual Winter Concert. This year the band played "Sonatine for Band", "The Young Prince and Princess", and "The Booster March."

Concert Band

No football game would have been complete without the clock-work performances presented by the North High Marching Band. Each week of the season, flashing white bucks marched out clever formations to appropriate music, thus delighting the football spectators.

The band practiced every day from eight to twelve during the last two weeks of August and during home-room and first period in the football season. It was evident that a great deal of "blood, sweat, and shoe leather" went into each show. On different occasions the North Band joined with the bands of Eastmoor and Linden to present combined half-time shows. Other highlights of the season were the twist, a marching wooden soldier, and the popular Script North.

It seemed that everyone's heart beat a little faster when the whistle of Drum Major, Miles Fusco, sent the Band down the field with the familiar strains of Polar Pep.

North High Orchestra

Very few of the North High Students realize exactly how much work goes into the programs presented by the orchestra. Their concerts and other such performances are diligently practiced until letter perfect and then reviewed for possible mistakes.

The orchestra consists of fifty-two members, thirty per cent of whom are in the band. The orchestra presents nine programs yearly. When these programs are in the making, the artists practice often before and after school and call personel rehearsals at their homes to work out certain conflicts. One can easily see that these people really enjoy their work and certainly know their business. North High positively owes a debt of gratitude to the orchestra and its leader, Mr. Dale.

Belle and Beau Prom

The night of January 23, 1963, was extra special, for it was the night of North High's annual Belle and Beau Prom. One of the biggest events of the year, the Belle and Beau was preceded by weeks of anticipation, planning, and excitement. The Social and Recreational Council was in charge as usual, and, as usual, it was highly successful.

Two weeks before the dance the senior girls elected the top ten candidates for Beau: Dick Barrows, Mike Beckman, Stan Cameron, Dick Green, Jim LeBay, Jeff Nye, George Pattison, Mike Renneker, Doug Rund, and Doug Shepard. The next week all the girls in the school chose the Beau Court, composed of Dick Barrows, Stan Cameron, Mike Renneker, Doug Rund, and Doug Shepard.

The night of the dance was the peak of excitement. During intermission Dick Green and Avis Campbell sang selections from the musical Camelot, which was the theme of the dance. Then came the big moment. Homecoming Queen Karen Calhoun announced North High's Beau for 1963 — Dick Barrows! The night proved to be most enjoyable not only for Dick and his belle, but also for every belle and every beau who attended this grand social event.

Amid the trappings of the knights of old, three Court "knights" dance with their "ladies."

Homecoming 1962

A radiant Karen Calhoun is crowned 1962 Homecoming Queen by last year's queen, Diane Courtright. The crown seems to fit perfectly!

Polar Bears Win As Karen Reigns

Homecoming, 1962: what was it like? It was joy, and tears, and most of all, it was magic, Magic Moments.

For the Top Five, Karen Calhoun, Karen Davis, Jeanne Greenlee, Carol Hungate, and Judy Wilson, it was many things. It was the writing of speeches, memorization, and the tension before that terrifying assembly. It was gratitude and happiness and some never to be forgotten thrills. For what greater honor could the student-body bestow upon you than to choose you as the ideal representation of their school.

For our queen, Karen Calhoun, it was a trip into a fantasy of dreams come true, the realization of her fondest hopes. For to be queen is to be not only a pretty girl, but one whose poise, charm, and personality have set her apart from the ordinary, and placed her with those who represent the best of our ideals.

For the seniors, it was the most thrilling Homecoming of all, and the saddest, for it was the last.

Homecoming was all that Homecoming should be, with a victorious game, a beautiful queen, and many wonderful memories.

Block N

"Out of the North comes the Polar Bears . . .", can be clearly heard every Friday night in the fall at 8:00 in the North High Stadium. The main part of this noise comes from North's cheering section, Block N. This year the group numbered 144 students. The students are divided into twelve rows with twelve in each row. There are six Senior rows, four Junior rows, and two Sophomore rows. The captains of this cheering section are Jeff Nye, Paul Weaver, and Ron Reid, under the guidance of Miss Meta Gregg. Maroon and gold capes are provided for the students, forming a maroon N on a gold background. Block N cheered at Eastmoor, Middletown, Whetstone, Central, Aquinas, and Watterson games.

Booster Captains

The 1962 Polar Bear Booster Drive was held on Thursday, September 27. The goal was $4,000, and approximately was collected. The money was used to promote the band and athletic departments.

Each one of the 34 Booster Captains was in charge of a team he had to organize. The Captains assigned streets and organized the drive so it ran smoothly. The success of the drive depended on the efficiency of each member on the drive.

After the Booster Drive, there was a social hour in the cafeteria. Refreshments were served, and the team that sold the most memberships was recognized.

Gallant Gridmen Garner Great 8-2 Record

North, giving one of its best performances in recent years, finished the spectacular 1962 football season with an 8-2 record. This season was highlighted by a 27-26 come-from-behind victory over a previously undefeated Watterson team.

North was behind 20-0 before Doug Shepard's 96-yard touchdown run gave North its first score. By the beginning of the fourth quarter North had rallied for 20 points, making the score 26-20. Then, they tied the score on John Todhunter's second touchdown run. With 2:04 left on the clock, Pat Saunders kicked the extra point for the winning margin. The next game with Linden might have been anti-climatic. However, the bears provided another evening of thrills, coming from behind, 20-6, to win, 26-20. This comeback was sparked by John Todhunter's three touchdown runs.

The over-all season showed North second place in the City League with a 7-1 mark. The only defeat coming at the hands of Central, the City League champs, by a 22-14 score.

The team had many outstanding players who received deserved credit for their hard work and great play. North landed four players on the first team All-City, which was picked by the coaches. They were Tim Buel, guard; Mike Renneker, guard; Sam Smith, end; and John Todhunter, halfback. Others who make honorable mention All-City were Dave Baldini, John Davis, Doug Shepard, and Jim Whitfield. Two of the outstanding players for North all year, Tim Buel and Mike Renneker, make the All-District team. Mike Renneker was also chosen to first team All-State. John Todhunter received Most Valuable Player, which is the highest honor the team can give a player, and Mike Renneker was voted Captain of the team.

All in all, with the high spirit and enthusiasm of the student body, along with the determination and ability of the team, and the brilliant leadership by the coaching staff, this was a most successful season.

Crafty Cagers Corner Cool 10-6 Season

North's 1962-63 basketball team showed a successful 6-4 record in a tough city league race, improving greatly from last year's 2-10 record. North, finishing fourth, could have been second by beating Central, however, they lost 61-60 in an exciting home game finish. Because of the remodeling of the gym, North was able to play only five home games. They dropped their first game in the new gym to Whetstone 73-71 in a real thriller.

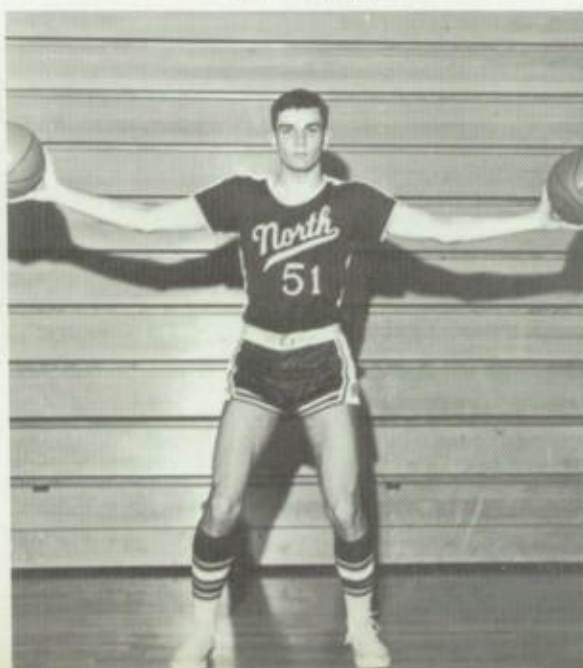

This year also marked the first season of varsity basketball coaching by last year's reserve coach, Mr. Eaton. Under his fine supervision the team finished with an overall record of 10-6, including a disappointing 43-40 loss to Hilliard in the first tournament game.

North was sparked by the hot shooting of Woody Fox and Bob Kanuth and by the steady playmaking of Tim Buel and Mike Rossiaky. Woody Fox and Bob Kanuth finished second and third in the city league scoring race with 172 and 170 points, respectively.

Six Seniors Spark Diamond Squad

The 1963 baseball team has ten returning men from last year's squad. With four two-year lettermen in Dick Bruce, Tim Buel, Jim LeBay, and Sam Smith, and with Ray Simendinger, who made All-City last year, to form the nucleus, North was expected to have a very strong team. The other five returning men that should give tremendous support are Bruce Heine, John Lindsey, Jack Ringhiser, Mike Rossiaky, and Jack Zoog.

Dick Eaton, now in his fourth year as baseball coach, emphasized that the key to a successful season would be getting two starting pitchers, who could go the whole seven innings. He also said a good nucleus was fine, but the players had to have desire to make the season successful.

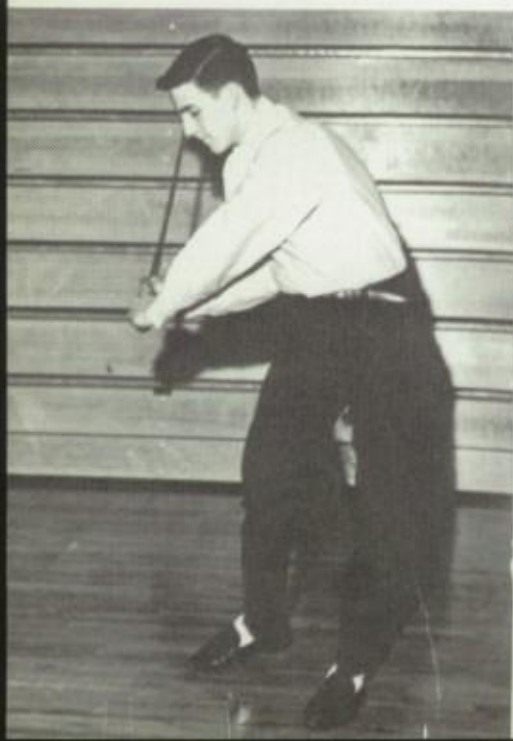

CROSS COUNTRY — BOTTOM ROW: K. Thurston, M. Marshall, G. Spangler, B. Schmidt, J. Wall, R. Hagans.
TOP ROW: Coach Bob Maben, S. Cox, T. Parrish, T. Russell, B. Heine, D. Way, J. Case.

Cross Country Cindermen Cinch 3rd in City

Finishing third in the city league meet late in October was a highlight for the 1962 Cross-Country team. North was rather handicapped after losing its top four from last year, leaving the team with two returning lettermen in Bob Schmidt and Glen Spangler. This year's team worked hard under the supervision of student coach Robert Maben from Ohio State. They practiced after school and ran a total of fifteen meets at Whetstone and at different golf courses.

This year's team had five letter winners. They were Bob Schmidt, Glen Spangler, Joe Wall, Mike Marshall and Terry Russell.

Norths Fearless Fairway Foursome

The 1963 Golf team, under the supervision of Mr. Wootton, is looking forward to another successful year. Although it is doubtful that there will be a golf league, because it is hard to get permission to use golf courses, North will still have a team with regular practices and matches. The team will be composed of the seven boys who obtain the lowest scores in pre-season try-outs.

Speedy Sprinters Seek Successful Season

This year's track team looked hopefully to the 1963 season. Coached by Mr. Shaw, the track team had men returning in almost every event and it was expected to do very well in this year's meets. Members started practice at the French Field House in early March so that they would be in good shape for this year's schedule.

MAJORETTES: Mary Needles, Joy Robinson, Head;

Snappy Steppers Spark Halftime

This year the half-time shows were as memorable as those of the previous years, even though there were only half as many majorettes. A great deal of credit goes to the three Majorettes, Mary Needles, Joy Robinson, and Jane Johnston, and the Drum Major, Miles Fusco. Due to their scarcity in number they have had to concentrate their efforts on perfecting their performances — and they did.

The girls are selected early in the spring on the basis of their field ability, personality, appearance, and their scholastic rating. During the summer they meet twice a week and practice. Two weeks before the fall term begins they practice daily with the band. The Majorettes along with the Drum Major write their own routines to comply with the band program. As one can easily see, the Majorettes' life at North is one which requires much more work than one would think.

RESERVE CHEERLEADERS: Vicki Bourne, Carol Hackler, Head; Sandy Pond, Pam Long, Barbara Nice, Julia Brakel.

Carol and Jeanne watch a sensational pass.

Cheerleaders Charm Polar Bear Rooters

The kickoff — six varsity cheerleaders turn to face the hundreds of Polar Bear fans who have come to see the North team win. The cheerleaders know that it is up to them to communicate this mass support to the team.

A cheerleaders' greatest thrill probably comes when she hears the voices swell in a deafening roar and feels the crowds will to win, by either pushing the Polar Bear men over those last few inches to the goal line or sending the ball up to its decisive basket. Her greatest discouragement is when there is no roar, only a half-hearted response.

North's cheerleaders are a very important part of the team. They are carefully selected in try-outs. Anyone may try out and the G.A.A.'s choose the twelve finalists. The final six are chosen by the faculty.

Keeping an enthusiastic school spirit high is a hard job but well-done by North's cheerleaders.

The shrill sound of "SCREAM" pierces the still night air. Karen Davis leaps for joy as Sam pulls down another one.

VARSITY N — BOTTOM ROW: D. Shepard, J. Todhunter, T. Buel, D. Bruce, M. Renneker, S. Smith. ROW 2: B. Chase, R. Irion, J. Whitfield, T. Heeter,

Varsity N

Varsity "N" is an organization consisting of boys who have received a varsity letter in any of the varsity sports at North. This group, under the direction of Mr. Hindman, has no meetings. Players who are members are given the privilege of paying one dollar, only, for a ticket to all the home games of any sport free. Varsity "N" was set up in order to give the athletes something extra for their hard work.

Girls Athletic Assn.

The purpose of G.A.A. is "to instill a spirit of enthusiasm and to promote fair play at all times." Having earned one hundred points by participating in intramurals, a girl may prove her enthusiastic spirit and fair play by going on a traditional prop week to prepare her for initiation into the club.

G.A.A. is behind many events during the school year ranging from selling book covers to sponsoring the Homecoming Dance.

The success of the club and all that it stands for is the result of the two G.A.A. advisors, Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Bumen. Under the titles of "Li'l Palm and "Lennie", they have established a tradition for their club.

Sharp Seniors Swamp Jrs. and Sophs.

The Seniors won the ticket sale this year, so they decorated the whole north side of the gym in their colors, red and white.

On the night of the tournament each class team put on a skit and then the tournament began. The result of the first game was the Seniors were victorious over the Sophomores, 12 to 9. The Sophomores and Juniors fought hard the second game. The Sophomores won, 19 to 12. For the final game, the Seniors beat the Juniors in a close game to become the champions. The score of the third game was 15 to 12.

Reproducing "West Side Story", these Juniors helped to liven up the Basketball Tournament.

Along with fall comes speedball; these girls show how invigorating this sport is!

Intramurals

The girls at North as well as the boys have a chance to display their athletic abilities. The majority of the girls at North participate in the girls' intramural program and enjoy it. The games are held after school on Thursdays and Fridays. In the fall the girls play speedball. During winter they come inside to play basketball and volleyball, and baseball comes with the coming of spring.

By playing intramurals girls earn G.A.A. points, but intramurals are worth much more than points. They give girls the opportunity to develop their athletic abilities, practice good sportsmanship, and have a good time.

As in any sport, concentration is also needed in volleyball.

Nancy,
 To one of the sweetest most loveable

 Best of luck, always

Nancy,
 Good Luck
 Doug Shepard

Give me a good reply now and enjoy your friends.
 I'm a good friend
 who's always there for you. Love,
 a good friend

Let us sing to Thee, North High School.
 Loyal we will ever be;
 To the school and friends we cherish,
 Keeping them in fondest mem'ry.
 Hail! Maroon and Gold, our colors,
 Ever let our banners fly;
 Proud that we are all united
 In our praise of old North High.

—John Kiplinger

Nancy,

It's been so much fun being in homecom + knowing you that last two years. I'll never forget our double date in

I envy your

 God bless you.
